

Privacy Policy for Smart Tabs

Effective Date: December 5, 2024

Smart Tabs ("we", "our", or "us") is a Chrome extension that helps you manage your open tabs. This privacy policy explains how we collect, use, and protect your data when you use our extension.

1. Data Collection

When you use Smart Tabs, the extension may collect the following types of data:

- Tab Information: We collect and store the titles and URLs of your open tabs in your browser. This data is used to help you manage, search, and switch between your open tabs. The tab data is saved locally in your browser, and no personal or sensitive information is collected.

2. Data Usage

The collected data (tab titles and URLs) is only used for the following purposes:

- Displaying the list of open tabs in the extension's interface.
- Allowing you to search, switch, save, and load your tab sessions.
- Data is stored only within your browser environment and is not shared with third parties or sent to external servers.

3. Data Storage

We use Chrome's local storage (via the Chrome Storage API) to store your tab data locally. The data is stored on your device and is not transmitted outside of your browser. You have full control over the data, and you can delete or modify the saved sessions at any time.

4. Data Security

We take reasonable steps to protect your data from unauthorized access, disclosure, alteration, and destruction. However, as with all software, we cannot guarantee complete security.

5. No Third-Party Sharing

We do not share, sell, or transfer any of your tab data to third parties. Your tab data is stored locally and is only accessible by the extension within your browser.

6. Changes to This Privacy Policy

We may update this privacy policy from time to time. If we make significant changes, we will update the "Effective Date" at the top of this policy and notify you via the extension itself. Your continued use of the extension after any changes to the privacy policy will signify your acceptance of those changes.
